BROAD STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

VOL. XXIX NO. 9

From Where I Sit . . .

“Give Something of Yourself”

Pioneers who have made great contributions to the betterment of mankind did so at great cost to themselves. We think not only of the explorers who discovered unsettled parts of our country, but also of those who dared to act on theories in the fields of science, medicine, benevolent ventures, and other ways of bettering the world we live in. All these who led the way paid a price, usually of their time, their freedom to be like everyone else, and even of their financial security.

I can't help but believe there is a great lesson in this for the church today. Church leaders are constantly looking for ways of getting membership involvement. Not any one of us could ever cover enough ground by oneself. We're dependent on the whole network of members if the church is really going to grow. The church is dependent on that part which each one supplies to the building up of the whole body (Eph. 4:11-16).

Recognizing that not all the work has been done, furthermore, that most of it hasn't been done yet, and finally that it probably won't get done if we don't help will be the beginning of dynamic church growth. Occasionally we hear someone say, “They ought to fix this,” Or “Why doesn't someone do something about.....”

We're blessed at the Broad Street congregation with a great number of volunteers who work hours every week beyond what one might expect to make things happen for the Lord's church. Most of these folks go unmentioned by name and do not perform their service for the purpose of being recognized. I can't help but think how much more ground we could cover if we could enlist the rest of the congregation to participate with the same volunteer spirit.

Seeing things as they really are – plus being willing to do something to help – are basic elements in leadership. You will find it easier to maintain the spirit of Christ if you will give something of yourself. Jesus gave His life for the sins of the people. If one ever feels that he's giving too much he only needs to compare himself to the One who gave it all.

Thank you to all those who are making things happen for the Lord's cause at Broad Street: our teachers, handy helpers, deacons, our clothing crew, adult volunteers to help with youth projects, food groups, Bible School staff, care group leaders and team members, and all those who call, visit and send cards week by week. This is only part of the whole picture of what helps the church grow. It's very exciting that we are in the middle of another season of L 2 L where our students and mentors are busily preparing themselves for the upcoming convention. It's amazing how much year-round work goes on with this program and how many adults and students are actively involved with these work projects. We can't just point at one program for it takes all the members of the whole church who are willing to “Give Something of Yourself” that will determine whether we fulfill the Lord's purpose for the church to “make known His manifold wisdom...” (Eph. 3:10). Will You give something of yourself to the Master?

Young At Heart

The annual Young At Heart Banquet will be held this Saturday, March 8th at 5 p.m. in the MPR. All those age 55 and older are invited to come with their date for an evening of food, fun, and fellowship.

Cathy Lemaster responded to the invitation on Sunday morning asking the church to pray for her forgiveness. She said she had committed a public sin that had brought reproach on the church. Please pray for our sister and encourage her in her walk with Christ.

Dear church family,
 Words cannot express the gratitude we feel for all the kindness you have shown us. We have been overwhelmed by your love and concern. Thank you for your prayers, calls, care packages for our trip, help with trip expenses and numerous cards of encouragement.

In Christian love,
 John, Lisa & Lydia Porch

Polly Franklin would like to thank everyone for all the prayers, cards, kind words and hugs during her recent illness.

The Learning Center gratefully acknowledges a monetary donation in memory of Brother Jerry Gant from Sam and Roxie Wright.

Soaring Faith

*The eagle sweeps across the sky,
Wind under its wings and opened breast.
It glides upon the current, high
Above the earth, for food and rest.
Wait, wait upon the Lord,
Renew your strength where the Spirit blows;
Your soaring faith its own reward,
The quiet heights for your repose.*
