Our graduating seniors this year are Shelton McCormack, Ragan Myers, and Abbie Woods. We will be honoring them on Sunday, July 5th. Everyone is invited to stay after the morning service for a power point presentation featuring our graduates. Also, there will be a table set up in the foyer for anyone who wants to leave a card or gift for our grads.

The Legend of the Cap and Gown

Long ago, in ancient Greece, when formal education was for the very rich or the very determined, a wise old teacher was approached by a group of noblemen. “Our sons have completed their studies and it is time for them to return to their homes and live in the style befitting their station. On the morrow, we will hold a great banquet in their honor and expect them to return to be dressed in their finest garments.” The old man smilingly answered, “They will be there,” and he added, “appropriately dressed.”

The following day, the banquet hall was filled with royalty and nobility dressed in dazzling jewels and costly finery. Then came the great moment when the students entered with their beloved teacher. A startled cry arose from the crowd. For here were their young men dressed, not in the garments of the noble, but in simple sack-clothed robes, each carrying a mortar board – the mark of a common workman.

“Let me explain,” spoke the teacher as he raised his hands for silence. “Your sons are dressed in the clothing of the mason, for their destiny is to build. Some will build cities, some will build lives – perhaps one of them may even build an empire. But all will be builders in the solid foundation of knowledge.”

And thus, over the years, the cap and gown have become a traditional part of graduation, symbolizing the fact that our young men and women are builders of their own future – and the future of our world.

Thank you for your thoughts, prayers, visits, and beautiful wreath. We love you so and it is so appreciated!

Changing Our World

by Keith Harris

A lot has happened over the last two months. A lot has happened over the last two weeks. Certainly, our country is reeling with civil unrest, and calls for justice roll through the current of our society. From the time of Cain and Able, conflict and brokenness have plagued our world. The sins of pride and selfishness are the clothing worn by many who fail to see their destruction. We see the history of humanity, the cruel leaders of nations long since conquered, and the plight of people held under thumb by those who believe they are somehow better. Deep down, we know this is not the way we “ought” to live.

As Christians, compassion, empathy, humility, love and respect ought to be characteristics on display in our lives. Peter wrote, “...this is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish people. Live as people who are free, not using your freedom as a cover-up for evil, but living as servants of God. Honor everyone. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor” (1Peter 2:15-17). As Christians in the midst of times like these, we must remain committed to the call God sends forth to be different – to live different, respond different, speak different, etc.

Changing our world must begin within each individual. We all have a choice to make as to how we will live in our world today!
