VOL. XXXVI NO. 18

From Where I Sit . . .

“A Word About Mothers For Mothers’ Day”

An old Spanish proverb says, “An ounce of mother is worth a pound of clergy.” I’ve heard it often, “The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world. This weekend, as we honor mothers, it’s good for us to think about how much they really do.

Unfortunately, her many tasks cause some children to get the wrong impression. One father was trying to explain the concept of marriage to his 4-year-old daughter. He got out their wedding album, thinking visual images would help, and explained the entire wedding service to her. When he was finished, he asked if she had any questions. She pointed to a picture of the wedding party and asked, “Daddy, is that when mommy came to work for us?”

Such words are spoken somewhat in “jest” but unfortunately too many women who are mothers have been subjected to such overload that they probably feel that this is how the world perceives them. We certainly must not take Mothers for granted, nor should a husband and children allow her to become a slave in her own home.

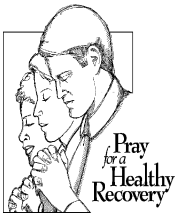

The Apostle Paul understood a mother’s love and used that beautiful imagery to describe his own affection for the children of God at Thessalonica. 1 Thessalonians 2:7-8 (NKJV) 7But we were gentle among you, just as a nursing mother cherishes her own children. 8So, affectionately longing for you, we were well pleased to impart to you not only the gospel of God, but also our own lives, because you had become dear to us.

Good mothers are very much like that, “imparting” their own lives because their family members are dear to them. Because of the tremendous amount of time mothers spend caring for their children, they are in a very special position to have a tremendous influence over their spiritual lives. A mother should be encouraged to use this time wisely to instill within her children a respect for scripture. It is never too early to start teaching the Bible to your children, and prayerfully, hopefully, it’s never too late to start if you haven’t already. There is nothing that can replace your role in your child’s life.

The Old Testament writings place a great deal of importance on the role of parents, fathers and mothers, being directly involved in the daily training of their children. Deuteronomy Chapter Six is a masterpiece in God’s plan for preserving His religion from one generation to the next, and it involves the parents teaching the children. Fathers had a very responsible role which sadly many have forsaken today – leaving most of the spiritual training up to the mothers. Thank God for mothers who are living examples before their children of the spirit of Christ in them. How much better it is when both parents accept this responsibility together.

Mothers, what kind of Bible is your child reading when he or she observes your life? Are you looking for ways to instill a respect for the Word of God into the lives of your children? I heard recently about a minister who had a long conversation with someone about becoming a member of the church. When he was done, the young man said he was ready to become a member. The minister was curious so he asked him, “What did I say that convinced you to be a member of the church?” The man answered, “It was nothing I ever heard you say. It was the way my mother lived.” May God bless our “Godly” mothers!! Happy Mother’s Day!

Everyone is invited to bring finger foods and your warm wishes for the 2021 Graduates' Reception on May 16th after the evening service. Our graduates this year are Noah Linville and Samuel Cobb. A table will be provided for those who wish to bring a card or gift.

You may remember that Tim Saint, former manager of our local Zaxby's, was shot and has been left paralyzed for life. The family has reached out to citizens of Scottsboro and other places for help. They are in need of a handicap accessible van to transport him. Our elders have agreed to make this known to the Broad Street Church family in case any of us would like to help with this effort. Your donations can be made payable to the Broad Street Church of Christ and ear-marked for the Tim Saint Fund. They have set Sunday, May 16, as the cut off date. Give your check to either of the Elders by that time. These will be deposited and one check written from the church to help our community friend.

She could not paint, nor write, nor rhyme
Her footprints on the sands of time,
As some distinguished women do;
Just simple things of life she knew –
Like tucking little folks in bed,
Or soothing someone's aching head.
She was no singer, neither blessed
With any special loveliness
To win applause and passing fame;
No headlines ever blazed her name.
But, oh, she was a shining light
To all her loved ones, day and night!
Her home her kingdom, she its queen;
Her reign was faithful, honest, clean,
Impartial, loving, just to each
And every one she sought to teach.
Her name? Of course, there is no other
In all the world so sweet – just Mother!
