BROAD STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

VOL. XXXVI NO. 24

From Where I Sit . . .

“MUSINGS ON FATHERS’ DAY”

A pre-school boy asked his father what he thought concerning a certain subject. The father gave his views and then asked the little fellow what he thought about the subject. The youngster answered, “I think what you do, Daddy.” There’s a time in every little child’s life when their Dad and Mom are heroes. To a child his father stands 10 feet tall and is the strongest man in the world. How many of us have seen our little children trying to stretch their footsteps to let each step fit into the print in the dirt that we’ve left behind.

This is a sobering realization. They also pick up our bad habits! Some kids pick up smoking cigarettes and eventually go on into drugs because they saw Dad/Mom smoking and started themselves at an early age. Some sneak in and try out the liquor cabinet when they see their heroes doing it! Some pick up language that should bring a blush, all the more reason that we should strive to be Christian fathers and mothers. A child’s complete confidence in parents is a beautiful thing to behold. God has given us the opportunity to shape and mold a life of innocence and purity. What a stewardship. Some parents take this role very seriously and live before their children the way God would want them to. Others mistreat their children either physically, emotionally, or “influentially.” Yes, I believe we can mistreat our children by exercising an influence over them that points them away from God.

As parents let’s be sure that we do nothing to destroy that youthful confidence and trust our children place in us. However, the day must ultimately come when the child will have to do his own thinking. Someday he will make his own decisions without parental guidance. This is a part of becoming mature. Wouldn’t it be a comfort to approach that time believing that you have equipped the child with all the right attitudes and examples to where you have reasonable confidence they will make the right choice. Of course, they’ll make some mistakes! We all do. But seeds you sowed many years back and cultivated up to the present will most often pay off in the child’s ability to see good and evil and choose that which is good.

“Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise; That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.”
(Eph 6:1-4)

An added thought: Wouldn’t it be ideal if every child of God had this type of childlike confidence in our Heavenly Father’s thinking as well? Making God’s thoughts our thoughts is the cherished goal of every loyal child of God. The time will never come when we can afford to leave God’s thinking and do our own, independent of his wishes. In your thinking do you run counter to God, go ahead of him, lag behind him, or seek to run with him in your thoughts?

Happy Father’s Day!!

. . . . Terry Broome

Please pray for our sick and remember them with cards, calls and visits.

Marge Rice will undergo knee replacement surgery on Monday at Crestwood Hospital in Huntsville. Please pray for a successful surgery and swift recovery.

Terry Broome is doing well in his recovery and the out-patient therapy. Please keep him in your prayers.

Jimmy Kimble, brother of Joan Jackson, received his test results that showed the mass is cancer and the kidney will have to be removed. Please pray for him.

Delmer Johnson, father of Rebecca Gardner, is doing better and is awaiting his biopsy results. Please continue to pray for him.

Vickie Farr, sister of Charlotte Vinson, will have to undergo additional chemotherapy. The cancer has spread to her spine now. Please pray for her. Her address is 4319 Hanging Moss Dr. Orange Park, FL 32073.

Father's Day

William B. Franklin has penned the following "definition" of a dad: "If he's wealthy and prominent and you stand in awe of him, call him 'father.' If he sits in his shirt sleeves and suspenders at a ball game and picnic, call him 'Pop.' If he wheels the baby carriage and carries bundles meekly, call him 'Papa' (with the accent on the first syllable). If he belongs to a literary circle and writes cultured papers, call him 'Papa' (with the accent on the last syllable)."

"If however, he makes a pal of you when you're good, and is too wise to let you pull the wool over his loving eyes when you are not; if, moreover, you're quite sure no other fellow you know has quite so fine a father, you may call him 'Dad.'"

There is little doubt or dispute that a father has a profound impact on his children. That impact may be for good or for evil. The influence, teaching and modeling of a father has started many a youngster down the path of life destined for greatness or destined for destruction. It is true that children grow up and assume responsibility for their own lives, their own actions and their own destinies. But it is equally true that dads make a tremendous difference in the lives of their children.

As you anticipate Father's Day, consider your father. Think of his positive traits and how he influenced you. Ponder his teaching and life and how it affected you. Be thankful for the ways that your dad helped you on the path of life. Take responsibility for your actions regardless of what your dad taught you.

If you are a father, consider your impact on the life of your children. There is no other person that God has ordained to guide and direct the home but you (Ephesians 6:4). Commit yourself to the awesome responsibility of stewardship for the lives of your children. Pray. Pray for your family. Pray for yourself. After all, God knows a little bit about being a Father.

Our hearts go out to Irene and Lee Gist with the loss of their sister-in-law and aunt, Eloise Broome. Eloise was the sister of our beloved Leroy Gist. She passed away June 9th. Her funeral service was conducted last Saturday with burial at Pine Haven. Please be praying for Irene, Lee, and the rest of the family.

Deborah Wacker responded to the invitation on Sunday morning requesting prayers. She has injured her back and is enduring a lot of pain. Please encourage her and remember her in your prayers.

Rhonda Harrison is in need of transportation to CCI in Huntsville for radiation treatments. She needs help for the next two weeks on Mondays, Wednesdays & Thursdays. If anyone could help with this, please see Brenda Devers.

If anyone would like to make a monetary contribution toward the VBS refreshments and supplies, please give your donation to Chad Brown or Becky Russell. Thank you!
