BROAD STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

VOL. XXXVI NO. 25

From Where I Sit . . .

“Let All Things Be Done Unto Edifying”

God’s Family, the church, is described in 1 Tim. 3:15 as the “house of God . . . the pillar and ground of truth.” That household or family of God is to be built up in the most Holy faith. To have a strong physical house, it has to be built up. To have a strong household or family, it too has to be strengthened and built up. God’s family needs this upbuilding.

The Bible word for this is “EDIFICATION.” It’s from a Greek word that has as its root word the concept of “A building – a dwelling.” The specific word, oikdome, carries the significance of “building up.” Thus the English word edify and edification come from that origin. Our word edifice, referring to a physical building, comes from the same root word.

Anything that we do to build up the house or household of God can be termed as edification. It was Paul’s prayer in Col 2:6-7 that “As ye have received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.” This is equivalent to saying “Rooted and edified.”

Thus, building up the house of God becomes a primary function of both elders, ministers, deacons, teachers, and all of God’s family. It was a significant part of the work of the church in the first century: Acts 9:31, “Then had the churches rest throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.”

Notice how much of our Christian experience edification affects. It was a major focus of Paul’s charge to the churches. Consider his writing to the church at Corinth, 1 Cor 8:1, “Now as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.” Thus, edification is the apparent end result when we manifest the right spirit to one another. Knowledge can cause one to exercise personal rights that would harm someone else, but charity considers their lack of understanding and strives to build them up instead. We should never use our knowledge in a way that beats someone else down, but with patience seeks to lift them up.

Christians should strive to grow in the ability to help the whole church with whatever talent God has blessed us. We are, in fact, our brother’s keeper. Can you imagine the impact on a local congregation if every member were making every decision in his life based on whether it is right with God and whether it would help the brotherhood. 1 Cor 14:12 “Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.”

Paul’s summary statement on the matter of church relationships and edification comes in 1 Cor 14:26, “How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying.”

Special thanks to all those that volunteered their time or gave donations to make our Super Saturday VBS a success. We appreciate you.

The Elders would like to announce that Dave Bagley has resigned his position as a Deacon. We appreciate Dave and thank him for his years of service to the church. We wish him well.

Chad's Chatter

A lot of times we look for the newest songs to sing, the newest thoughts to think, especially when we're young. People tend to not value the wisdom of others that lived before us. We don't want to sing the songs that have been sung for generations. We want to write and sing new songs. And, there's nothing wrong with that. I like to sing and learn new songs, too. However, that doesn't mean the older ones should be forgotten or seen as useless just because they were written before we were born. A lot of good and useful things were done before any of us were born! For instance, the entire Bible! We should remember and learn from faithful ones who have gone on before us. Take, for example, the lyrics from this song:

How Shall the Young Secure Their Hearts?

"How shall the young secure their hearts, and guard their lives from sin? Thy word the choicest rules imparts, to keep the conscience clean. It's like the sun, a heavenly light, that guides us all the day; and through the dangers of the night, a lamp to lead our way. The ones who keep Your law with care, and meditate your word, grow wiser than their teachers are, and better know you, LORD. Your word is everlasting truth, how pure is every page! Your holy book shall guide our youth, and well support our age."

From my understanding, the song was originally without music as a poem paraphrased from Psalm 119 by Isaac Watts. It was first published in his 1719 Psalms of David. The next time you want to dismiss all the "old" music, realize, if you live on this earth long enough, you too will be old! Do you want to be heard and to help those younger than you? Or, do you want to be forgotten and dismissed so they can make all the same mistakes all over again?

For all those who brought me food since I got home from rehab, I thank you so much! It was all delicious and a relief not to have to try to fix something myself. Again, thank you.

In Christian love,
 Debi Kime

Dear Broad Street Family,

Thank you so much for the Bible given to me. It will guide me in my next chapter of life. Also, thank you to all who helped prepare the graduates reception. It was a great night and one I will always remember. I appreciate all of the gifts, cards, and words of encouragement. I placed individual thank you cards on the table in the foyer. I ask that you keep me in your prayers as I start my new journey.

In Christian love,
 Noah Linville

It's All Up To Me

I cannot change others,
But I can change me
I must learn to focus
Being the best I can be
When I change my outlook
And improve through and through
Amazingly I find
That others get better too
