BROAD STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

VOL. XXXVI NO. 43

From Where I Sit . . .

“The Value Of Being A Christian”

Since the founding of our nation, people from all over the world have looked longingly to America, the land of freedom and opportunity. They realize the value of being an American. While there are some who now dispute this, by and large, we are still overwhelmed with the numbers of immigrants who come to these shores annually. These are individuals who, for the most part, want an opportunity; who want to spend their lives in some valuable endeavor.

For the most part, we too desire to spend our lives, talents, energies, and abilities in some worthwhile endeavor. I submit that living for Jesus and being a Christian is where one can find the very most meaningful existence. Sadly, there are some who doubt the worthwhileness of this endeavor, especially if they witness inconsistencies in a Christian's life. Their doubts, however, do not negate certain realities that make being a Christian the greatest way to live. Mankind would give New Testament Christianity more serious consideration if they were constantly reminded of the meaningfulness and value of spending one's life in this way. Jesus reminds us that men will know that we are his disciples, “If ye have love one to another” (John 13:35). By the same token, He affirms that men would come to believe through seeing the unity and harmony within the Christian fellowship (John 17:21).

Just why should a person want to become a Christian? Certainly one need only look at the consequences of sin in this world to realize that we need deliverance from them. The Apostle Paul affirms that this happens through one person and one only: “For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by one man's obedience many will be made righteous” (Romans 5:19). In 2 Corinthians 5:21 we are reminded that God “... made Him to be sin for us who knew no sin; that we might be the righteousness of God in Him.”

Jesus offers eternal salvation to those who are willing to obey Him, Hebrews 5:8-9 (KJV) ⁸ “Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;” ⁹ And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;”

Friends, there is no other antidote in the world that can provide this kind of deliverance from a most dreaded disease: sin that results in death (Romans 6:23). Just think, all the burden of guilt is removed from a person's past life. He can be saved eternally one day.

In addition to the joy of release from sin and its consequences is the wonderful joy of spending one's life as a child of God. “The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit that we are children of God: and if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together” (Romans 8:16-17). What better way for one to spend their life than living as a child of God and bearing glory to God through all that we do and say.

Dear reader, living for Jesus is the only way to live that brings with it any hope in the world to come. We buy insurance policies to protect loved ones in the event of our deaths. What sort of insurance do you have that will protect your soul for eternity? God has promised, and He's faithful in His word, “I will remember their sins no more” (Hebrews 5:12).

NOVEMBER

My, what a wonderful family you are! I would like to thank all of those young men and some ladies too for your love and concern for me last Sunday morning when I took a tumble on my way out of the auditorium. It was very heartwarming to see all of the loving care as you responded to my needs at the time. My family and I are very thankful to God and you that I was not injured seriously.

Your brother in Christ,
 Jim Brown & family

It Is Well with My Soul

You probably know this song very well and you've possibly sung it hundreds of times. You may even love this song already, but do you know the story behind it? As I understand, this is how it happened: Horatio Spafford was an attorney in 1873. Two years previous most of his business had burned in the great Chicago fire. In 1873 his wife, Anna, and their 4 daughters were aboard an ocean liner Ville du Havre as it was struck by another vessel. All 4 of their daughters drowned in the horrible accident. Anna survived and was able to contact Horatio 9 days later with this question: "Saved alone—what shall I do?" Horatio took the next ship to be with his wife. After he crossed where the Ville du Havre had sunk with his 4 daughters, Horatio penned the words of the famous and beautiful song "It is well with my soul." The next time I sing this song, I believe I'll have an even better appreciation for this song. How about you?

When peace like a river attendeth my way,
 When sorrows like sea billows roll,
 Whatever my lot, Thou hast taught me to say,
 "It is well, it is well with my soul."

How to Be More Productive for Christ

Start with the Root. Become well grounded in Christ and His word. Make sure He is the foundation of everything you think and do. Establish yourself in His principles.

Grow a Shoot. A shoot is a new growth on a plant. Develop your talents and grow in a new direction. Keep feeding on the nutrients of the word of God and soak in the "son" shine. Grow in faith and spiritual maturity.

Produce Much Fruit. With a solid foundation, constant intake of spiritual nutrients, and growing in Christ, you can't help but be productive in His name. And don't forget to continue to expand in service and productivity.

"As you have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in Him, rooted and built up in Him and established in the faith, as you have been taught, abounding in it with thanksgiving" (Colossians 2:6-7).

A man may go to heaven without health,
without fame, without great learning,
without a great name, without big earnings,
without a thousand other things,
but he can never go to heaven without Christ.
