VOL. XXXVII NO. 47

From Where I Sit . . .

“The Habit of Gratitude”

It’s here at last! That wonderful season of Thanksgiving! I love this time of the year and the fact that so many say so much about the reasons for being thankful. The psalmist calls his people to “remember” the works of God in Psalms 105:1-5 (KJV) ⁵ “Remember his marvellous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;”

He knew how prone people are to forget. He knew how easy it is for us to focus on our trials; to be weighted down with care; to overlook the many simple blessings we enjoy in life. I would like to encourage the reader to perform a simple exercise.

- Sometime soon (today would be best) get a piece of paper and divide it into three columns.
- Give each of the columns one of the following headings: God, People, Things.
- Then, begin to list the things under each column for which you can be thankful.
- Don’t rush through it. Take time to remember.
- When your list is completed, take it before God in prayer and deliberately, one by one, thank Him for the things on your list.
- Then, you might want to thank the people on that list for how they have been a blessing. Write them a note, call them on the phone, or give them a hug the next time you see them.

Both gratitude and ingratitude are contagious. Don’t you find it somewhat depressing that people almost always know of our complaints, but seldom know how we have been blessed? We are so quick to share our latest trials, no matter how trivial, but it takes a “big blessing” before we think to share something good.

Can you imagine how different life would be if we spent as much time sharing our blessings as we do in airing our complaints? Something strange happens when a child is old enough to participate in prayer before our meals that has the potential to be revolutionary if we will allow it. It can be an humbling, yet refreshing experience to hear your child pray. Children like to thank God for everything. They thank God for everyone, sometimes by name as far as they can remember. They thank God for letting them go walking at the mall with their mother; for being able to play in the dirt with a new tractor; just whatever seemed to them to be special that day – nothing big or exciting – just a lot of little things. I think we could all learn from a child. I hope that it is a lesson we do not soon forget.

Colossians 2:6-7 (KJV) ⁶ “As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: ⁷Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.”

Happy Thanksgiving!!

My Forever Home

When you think of your forever home, what do you think of? Maybe it’s a big house on the corner with a white picket fence. We want so badly for our house to match our dreams and magazines we see. However, have you ever been in a house and not fixed something because you knew it wasn’t your forever home? You didn’t want to waste time, money, and effort on something that wasn’t going to be worth it, right?

John 18:36 JESUS answered, “My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, MY servants would fight, so that I should not be delivered to the Jews; but now My kingdom is not from here.”

Are we fighting for HIS true kingdom or more worried about our “forever home” on this earth? CHRIST said “If My kingdom were of this world, My servants would fight...” So, are we fighting for His cause? Are we striving for CHRIST’S kingdom now and for heaven as our forever home? If so, we need to follow His will and His way and not worry so much about the future of this world’s treasures. John 12:26 Whoever serves me must follow me; and where I am, my servant also will be. My Father will honor the one who serves me.

A Psalm of Thanksgiving

*Make a joyful shout to the Lord, all you lands!
Serve the Lord with gladness,
Come before His presence with singing.
Know that the Lord, He is God;
It is He who has made us, and not we ourselves.
We are His people and the sheep of His pasture.
Enter into His gate with thanksgiving,
And into His courts with praise.
Be thankful to Him, and bless His name.
For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting,
And His truth endures to all generations.*
