First, a big thank you!

So many have reached out to me in kindness during this difficult time where full recovery will be a daunting 6 months to a year.

I know how much time, energy and love you put into the ministry here, and it's such a blessing to know that we can rely on you.

Thank you for the hours you've spent assisting my family and I with cards, calls, rides, equipment, goodies, offers of help and visits. Thank you for being a friend to those who need it most. I must say that when I woke up that morning in the middle of April, I never dreamed that the day would close where I would be unable to walk or even drive, and that would be so for this long. Most importantly, thank you for helping to make our church a vibrant, spiritual community.

I know you have a lot of other duties in society — family, home, work, organizations or causes whose missions you support. That's why it means so much that you've chosen to spend some of your precious time helping me. Especially to Brenda, Brenda, Betty, LaRue, Wendy, Holly, Mary, Buddy, Brenda + Bill, this letter can't repay you for what you've given, but I hope it will suffice as a token of my gratitude.

*Lots of love,
 Your sister, Angel Chaney*

Chad's Chatter

What is valuable in your life?

How would you answer this question: "What is the most valuable thing you have?" Some would say family, some would say time, others might say retirement or our own talents and personalities. Some would even list their most valuable things they own like their houses, bank account, or their favorite car.

Whatever you think is the most valuable thing you have, however, is probably the thing you spend the most time thinking about. It's probably what you spend the most amount of money protecting, and you probably talk about it all the time because it's so important to you! Rightly so, the scripture says: "For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."
Matthew 6:21

But what if you're valuing the wrong treasure? How are we supposed to know what should be most important? Well, there's more to that scripture. Earlier in Matthew 6, it says what our treasure should be... or rather where our treasure should be, in heaven. We are to lay our treasures up in heaven because they can never be destroyed there! We are not to have treasures on earth where they can be destroyed. So, if we live the way GOD wants us to, time, money, retirement, and possessions should never be so valuable to us that we see them as our treasure! Focus on the spiritual things like salvation, doing GOD'S will while we still have a choice to choose Him in our lives. We can be thankful for all those things on this earth, but we should never see them as our real Treasure!

~Chad

Melissa Ledbetter came forward on Sunday morning asking for prayers of the church. She feels that as a young mother she is struggling with finding the time to be the example she needs to be for her children. Please pray with Melissa as she raises her children in the Lord.

Traci Blizzard came forward on Sunday evening asking for prayers. She has had trouble staying faithful and that her depression has been trying to take over her life. Please keep Traci in your prayers as she struggles with her depression.
