BROAD STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

VOL. XXXIV NO. 19

From Where I Sit . . .

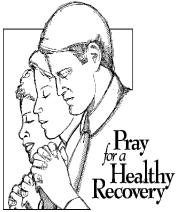

“THE TIME HAS COME”

It is that time of year, when spring is in the air, when nature is going through a rejuvenation process, when the chill of the air turns to warmth, and the graduating seniors are deep into a thing called senioritis. For these graduating seniors it is the end of a twelve year phase of educational development. It is a time of reflection about the past twelve years and it is a turning toward the next important phase in their lives, life after graduation. It is such a difficult time in a way, because it is hard to end something that has been a part of your life for about two thirds of this short life you have lived. It is difficult because the end of this phase demands that this individual must now face some very difficult questions. Questions such as: what do I want to do to make a living, do I want to have a family some day, what kind of family do I want, where do I want to live and do I want to even think about these serious question right now? It is also a difficult time for parents. Parents that have worked so hard to make sure they have done all they can to help their children through this very difficult phase of their lives and they have done all they can to prepare them for the next phase in their lives. They know they will no longer have the same impact on the lives of their children as their children are now taking more responsibility for their own lives. No wonder there are so many tears that are shed during this time of life. Many parents and their children wish they could go back in time and start over, but they know that this is impossible. Life does not stop for any man.

We are so fortunate in this congregation to have wonderful parents that have worked so hard to prepare their children in the spiritual matters that not only will give guidance to their lives, but will also provide for their children an everlasting strength that they can rely upon. Strength they will need in order to face the difficulties that will rock their foundations and their faith. We are very fortunate to have parents that have tried to instill in their children that the answers to life difficult questions can be found in the truths of God's Word. We are fortunate to have parents that have had the courage to live as examples to their children and to demonstrate to them how to stand in the faith. These parents now have to trust these lessons and these examples have been learned and embraced by those whom they deeply love. We are also very fortunate to have young people who love the Lord and who love His Word. We pray that they will always rely upon the teachings of God to guide their lives and that they will rely upon the strength of God to help them in times of difficulties. We pray as these children move into the next phase of their lives that they will never forget the teaching of their wonderful parents and they will never forget nor leave the teaching this congregation has tried to give them over the years. We pray that they will be ever faithful to Christ and that they will raise their families to be believers in the One who saved them.

Young graduating seniors always remember that you have loving parents who have tried to prepare you for this next phase of your life and for your life to come. We hope that you will always heed the teaching of these wonderful people who have given so much to you. We also pray you will never forget what your Lord and Savior has done to help you now and for your eternity. Parents try to remember that you have done all you can, remember the words of Solomon, Proverbs 22: 1 - 6, “22:1] A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches, Loving favor rather than silver and gold. [2] The rich and the poor have this in common, The LORD is the maker of them all. [3] A prudent man foresees evil and hides himself, But the simple pass on and are punished. [4] By humility and the fear of the LORD Are riches and honor and life. [5] Thorns and snares are in the way of the perverse; He who guards his soul will be far from them. 6] Train up a child in the way he should go, And when he is old he will not depart from it.”

My Mother Kept a Garden

My mother kept a garden

A garden of the heart

She planted all the good things

That gave my life its start

She turned me to the sunshine

And encouraged me to dream

Fostering and nurturing

The seeds of self-esteem

And when the winds and rain came

She protected me enough

But not too much because she knew

I'd need to stand up strong and tough

Her constant good example

Always taught me right from wrong

Markers for my pathway

That will last a lifetime long

I am my mother's garden

I am her legacy

And I hope today she feels the love

Reflected back from me.
